SUBJECT:—*Review on the annual report of the City Police,
Hyderabad for 1351 Fasli.*

During the year under review, which from the point of view of public peace was marred throughout India by disturbances caused owing to the Satyagraha movement, the City Police succeeded in maintaining public tranquillity in Hyderabad, where the number of persons attracted by the Movement was only nominal.

Communal relations were hardly ruffled, though there were some traces of industrial unrest resulting from a scarcity of foodstuffs and other necessities of life.

It is satisfactory to note that in a city like Hyderabad, which has an area of 34.57 sq. miles and a population of about six lakhs, the total number of cognizable cases fell from 26,324 in 1350 F. to 21,434, a decrease of 4,870. The number of offences against person and property or property only during the year was 394, against 331 in 1350 F.

Offences against the rules for the regulation of traffic and the preservation of order in public places showed a marked decrease, the comparative figures for 1351 and 1350 F. being 16,815 and 21,131 respectively. The number of road accidents also declined by 95 from 273 to 174, this gratifying reduction, though of course it reflects the effect of petrol rationing on the volume of fast traffic, is also partly attributable to improved traffic control.

The number of accidental fires was 24 (25) though the damage caused was greater being Rs. 34,616 (Rs. 3,937).

The Department continued the work of raising the percentage of literacy in the Police force, which rose from 54.18 to 61.66 per cent. Full attention was given to the physical and recreational training of the force, with the result of increased efficiency and a better understanding between the Police and the Public.

Co-operation between the Police and the A.R.P., and the relations between the Police and the Magistracy were also commendable.

Government places on record its appreciation of the work done by Nawab Rahmat Yar Jung, who remained in charge of the Department as Commissioner of the City Police throughout the year. The effectiveness of the Force as an instrument for maintaining the public peace was effectively shown by the prompt subsidence of efforts to follow the lead given by the Congress agitation in British India, alien though such agitation was to the whole tradition of Hyderabad. Government also notes with pleasure the names of officers who were decorated during the year.

SECRETARY,

Report on the Administration of the Hyderabad City Police for the year 1351 Fasli.

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

Charge.—I held charge of the City Police Department throughout the year. .

1. Mr. Ahmed Sayeed, Assistant Commissioner, retired on Changes in the pension on Khurdad 5, 1351 Fasli.
Personnel.

2. Mr. Mukhtar Ali Khan, Senior Deputy Commissioner, Supervision and was in charge of the Crime Branch and the control. Divisional Police throughout the year. He inspected the following Simths during the year—

(i) Chaderghat,

(ii) Mir Chowk.

He visited also the scenes of important and heinous crimes. The Divisional Assistant Commissioners inspected all Police Stations and Outposts in their respective jurisdictions and supervised the investigation and prosecution of important cases.

3. Relations with the Magistracy continued to be good Relations with the during the year based, as they always were,
Magistracy. on mutual consideration and understanding.

4. Relations with the public were harmonious, as Relations with the before.
Public.

5. There was no outbreak of communal trouble during the Communal Re- year and the situation, taken as a whole, was lations. satisfactory.

6. There were strikes in the Charminar Cigarette Industrial Unrest. Factory, the Venkat Kistiah Mills, but these were not of serious character.

7. Satyagraha was started in Hyderabad on Mehir 5, 1351
Political Agitation. Fasli by the workers of the now defunct State Congress in response to the Bombay Resolution of the All-India Congress Working Committee. Altogether
39 persons were arrested till the close of the year for offering
Satyagraha and for preventive reasons, etc.

Broadly speaking, the Satyagraha movement attracted very little popular response in Hyderabad and was confined to a limited section of Hindu students and public. It did not, as far as the City of Hyderabad was concerned, result into any acts of violence or sabotage.

For the first time in the history of Hyderabad, Hindu Women actively associated themselves with and participated in the movement though, it is true, their number was very limited.

8. The festivals of Iduz-Zuha, Idul-Fitr and Holi passed off peacefully. Moharrum began on Isfandar 17 and concluded peacefully on Isfandar 26. The public was warned as usual to abide by the rules regulating its observance.

One hundred and forty-two Ganapati procession permits were issued.

The Holi processions of the Arya Samaj were banned under Section 22 (3) of the City Police Act, due to a stabbing incident in Dhoolpet which had led to considerable communal tension.

The Sikhs took out their procession as usual.

9. The seasonal conditions were satisfactory. Economic conditions in Hyderabad, as elsewhere in the Dominions, were greatly affected by the war resulting in scarcity of foodstuffs and other necessities of life.

10. The city limits, as before, enclosed an area of 34.57 square miles with a population of roughly six lakhs.

PART II.

CRIME AND POLICE ACTION.

11. The following statement gives the total number of cognizable cases reported to the Police as compared with the previous year:—

Serial No.	Offences	1930 F.	1931 F.
I	Serious offences against the State and public justice ..	53	82
II	Serious offences against the person	199	162
III	Serious offences against the person and property or property only	331	394
IV	Minor offences against the person	338	267
V	Minor offences against the property	943	967
VI	(a) Offences under the City Police Act	22,686	18,275
	(b) Other offences not specified above including offences against special and local laws.	1,774	1,307
	Total ..	26,324	21,454

There is a net decrease of 4,870 cases as compared with the preceding year. As the above figures would show, there was an appreciable decrease in offences under the City Police Act, serious and minor offences against the person, the figures being 18,275 as against 22,686, 162 as against 199 and 267 as against 338 respectively. Serious offences against the State and public justice, serious offences against the person and property or property only and minor offences against the property showed a slight increase. A brief analysis of the reasons accounting for this fluctuation is given under each class or category of crime.

12. The following statement shows the result of action taken by the Police and the Courts during the year under report as compared with the previous year:—

There is a marked decrease in the cases reported to the Police this year. The percentages of cases traced to reported, challaned to traced, decided to tried and convicted to decided showed slight fluctuation. The percentage of property recovered in 1349, 1350 and 1351 Fasli was 53.9, 67.63 and 55.7 respectively.

CLASS I.

13. Offences against the State and Public Justice.

6	Offences under the Public Security Act ..	7	2	..	5
7	Abetment of desertion of soldiers ..	1	1
	Total ..	53	82	38	9

This year, there is a net increase of 29 cases under this class. The increase is mainly due to action under the Defence of Hyderabad Rules, consequent on the Satyagraha Campaign launched by the local Congressites following Mr. Gandhi's "Quit India" move.

Offences relating to coins and stamps, rioting and unlawful assembly show a slight increase, the figures being 6 as against nil, 4 as against 2 respectively. Out of 82 cases reported, 79 proved to be true. Eighty-one cases including three cases pending investigation at the close of the previous year were traced. Seventy-five cases involving 129 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 101 cases involving 189 persons, including 26 cases involving 60 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 82 cases involving 153 persons, convicting 116 persons in 57 cases and acquitting or releasing 37 persons in 25 cases. Nineteen cases involving 36 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

CLASS II.

14. Serious offences against the person.

12	Forcing for unlawful sexual intercourse ..	1	1
13	Outraging modesty of women ..	5	4	..	1
	Total ..	199	162	15	52

This year, there is a net decrease of 37 cases under this class. The decrease is more pronounced in offences relating to causing grievous hurt by rash act, attempt at and abetment of suicide and voluntarily causing grievous hurt with dangerous weapons, the figures being 19 as against 41, 16 as against 27 and 2 as against 9 respectively. Offences relating to murder, culpable homicide, rape, causing death by rash act, voluntarily causing grievous hurt, forcing for unlawful sexual intercourse and outraging modesty of women show a slight decrease. There is an increase in offences relating to attempt at murder, unnatural offences and kidnapping or abducting a person from lawful guardianship. The decrease in certain offences on the one hand and the increase in certain offences on the other, is not attributable to any specific reasons but is perhaps due to the normal tendency of fluctuation pure and simple. Out of 162 cases reported, 145 cases proved to be true. One hundred and forty-four cases involving 183 persons were traced and one hundred and twenty-eight cases involving 162 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 158 cases involving 193 persons, including 30 cases involving 31 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 134 cases involving 154 persons, convicting 38 persons in 37 cases and acquitting or releasing 31 persons in 32 cases. Seventy-four cases involving 85 persons were compounded and 24 cases involving 39 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

CLASS III.

15. Offences against Person and Property or against Property only.

Srl. No.	Offences	No. OF CASES		Increase	Decrease
		1350 F.	1351 F.
1	Robbery	5	2	..	3
2	Burglary	326	392	66	..
	Total ..	331	394	66	3

There is a net increase of 63 cases under this class this year. This is mainly due to present economic stress, scarcity of food-stuffs, etc. Cases of burglary have increased by 66 which, I think is quite a negligible figure in view of the circumstances mentioned. Out of 394 cases reported, 390 cases proved to be true. One hundred and ninety-four cases including two cases pending investigation at the close of the previous year, were traced. One hundred and sixty-eight cases involving 187 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 207 cases involving 239 persons, including 39 cases involving 25 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 174 cases involving 203 persons, convicting 181 persons in 156 cases and acquitting or releasing 22 persons in 18 cases. Thirty-three cases involving 36 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

3	Wrongful restraint .. .	29	14	..	15
	Total ..	338	267	4	75

There is a net decrease of 71 cases under this class this year. The decrease is more marked in offences relating to causing hurt by act endangering life or safety of others, the figures being 174 as against 234. This is mainly due to improved traffic conditions and perhaps also to the fact that there are now fewer motor vehicles on the road due to petrol rationing. Out of 267 cases reported, 254 proved to be true. Two hundred and forty-five cases were traced and 241 cases involving 282 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 255 cases involving 301 persons, including 14 cases involving 19 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 240 cases involving 274 persons, convicting 100 persons in 94 cases and acquitting or releasing 30 persons in 19 cases. One hundred and twenty-seven cases involving 144 persons were compounded and 15 cases involving 27 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

8	Causing mischief	4	3	..	1
	Total	943	967	80	56

There has been a net increase of 24 cases under this class this year. Offences relating to criminal breach of trust, criminal trespass or house trespass and cheating show a decrease. There is an increase in offences relating to theft, theft of ornaments from the person of children and cattle theft. The increase in thefts is attributable, as stated elsewhere, to present economic stress, scarcity of food-stuffs, etc. Out of 967 cases reported, 943 proved to be true. Six hundred and sixty cases were traced including 35 cases pending investigation at the close of the year. Five hundred and eighty-six cases involving 691 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 755 cases involving 972 persons, including 169 cases involving 281 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 543 cases involving 625 persons, convicting 496 persons in 448 cases and acquitting or releasing 113 persons in 85 cases. Ten cases involving 16 persons were compounded and 212 cases involving 347 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

7	Disorderly conduct in court and Police offices	106	92	..	14
	Total ..	22,686	18,275	11	4,422

There has been a net decrease of 4,411 cases under this class this year. The decrease is conspicuous in cases relating to traffic and preservation of order in public places, the figures being 16,815 as against 21,131 last year, which is mainly due to the emphasis laid during the year on traffic control and steps taken to develop a road-sense in the public. The Police it must be admitted, however, are still far from their goal. Of the 18,275 cases reported, 18,269 proved to be true, all of which were traced. Eighteen thousand two hundred and sixty-nine cases involving 21,774 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 18,304 cases involving 21,844 persons, including 35 cases involving 70 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 18,285 cases involving 21,825 persons, convicting 21,776 persons in 18,236 cases and acquitting or releasing 49 persons in 49 cases. Nineteen cases involving 19 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

	Total ..	1,774	1,307	102	569

There has been a net decrease of 467 cases under this class as compared with the previous year which, as the above figures would show, is mainly due to comparatively fewer prosecutions under the Motor Vehicles Act. Out of 1,307 cases reported, 1,304 cases proved to be true and out of which 1,303 were traced.

One thousand three hundred and one cases involving 1,391 persons were sent up to the Court for trial. Out of 1,431 cases involving 1,534 persons, including 130 cases involving 143 persons of the previous year, the Court decided 1,332 cases involving 1,394 persons, convicting 1,197 persons in 1,144 cases and acquitting or releasing 197 persons in 188 cases. Ninety-nine cases involving 140 persons were pending trial at the close of the year.

19. Great stress was laid during the year on this aspect of Police work.
Preventive Measures.

Two hundred and sixteen persons were called upon to furnish securities for keeping peace and good behaviour under Sections 104 and 105 Cr. P.C. as against 96 last year.

There were 673 bad characters under surveillance during the year under report including 358 of the previous year, out of which 345 were struck off due to various reasons. The remaining 328 were under surveillance at the close of the year.

There were 397 members of the criminal tribe under surveillance during the year under report including 331 of the previous year, out of which 94 were struck off due to various reasons. The remaining 303 were under surveillance at the close of the year.

PART III.

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DEPARTMENT.

28. (a) Crime Branch.—The strength of the Branch remained unchanged during the year.

Of the 178 cases dealt with by the Branch, all were traced. Twenty-one cases were transferred to other jurisdictions and 23 cases were under investigation at the close of the year. One hundred and thirty-four cases were sent up to the Court for trial. The court decided 85 cases, 82 of which ended in conviction and 3 in dismissal. Forty-nine cases were pending trial at the close of the year,

The following statement shows the number of cases investigated by the Branch during the year under the various classes of crime:—

Classes.	Cases.
I. 	1
III. 	30
V. 	143
VI (b). 	4
	<hr/>
Total ..	178
	<hr/>

Assistance was also given by the Branch to the Divisional Police in all important and serious crimes and joint enquiries were successfully carried out in many cases.

(b) Special Branch.—Mr. Syed Majeedullah, H. C. S., Deputy Commissioner, was in charge of this Branch throughout the year. The Branch had a very strenuous and exacting time during the year, as in previous ones, inasmuch as the additional burden imposed by war continued to increase in weight. The initiation of the Satyagraha Movement by the workers of the now defunct State Congress on Meher 5, 1351 F., though on a modest scale, meant a great deal of anxiety and stress for the Branch.

In accordance with Government's instructions, a detailed report on the working of the Branch has been sent up separately.

PART IV.

REFORMS AND INTERNAL SECURITY.

29. (a) Reforms.—The drive to instil a high degree of road-sense in the public continued vigorously during the year and great stress was laid both on the physical and recreational training of the force. Though, in view of better conditions of army service and other factors arising out of the present war situation, it was found difficult to attract the right type of men to the Police force—I mean literate men with good physique—every effort was made to maintain the standard of literacy and physical fitness of the force.

In spite of the fact that the Police had their hands full on account of increased work in almost every sphere of their activity, various reforms affecting the internal administration of the department, discipline, etc., were introduced.

(b) Internal Security.

(i) Special Police.—The question of providing Civic Guards for the City of Hyderabad on the lines of some of the British Indian towns was thoroughly examined by me at the instance of Government and I had submitted a comprehensive scheme for the raising of an Auxiliary Defence Guard. Owing to the fear that these Civic Guards may deteriorate into what may be called organized communal camps, Government decided to empower me to raise 2,000 Special Police under the Hyderabad City Police Act instead. Out of this sanctioned number, a force of 1,040 Special Police as detailed below has been raised under a more or less voluntary system:—

Sub-Inspectors	..	80
Head Constables	..	40
Constables	*..	920
		<hr/>
Total	..	1,040
		<hr/>

(ii) A. R. P.—The duties and responsibilities of the Police in connection with A. R. P.—an additional burden imposed on them by war—need not be dilated upon. Suffice it to say that the A. R. P. Services rely greatly on the full co-operation of the Police force to enable them to carry out their work efficiently. Necessary steps have been taken to ensure close liaison of the Police force with the A. R. P. Services.

(iii) Arms.—In recent years, the City Police have been equipped with 500.410 muskets which have replaced the old Henry Martinis and muzzle-loaders. Steps are being taken to provide the City Police with an extra number of 1,000 .410 muskets.

(iv) Mechanization.—As the Government are aware, a beginning has been made towards the mechanization of the City Police force by the provision of 4 extra buses, 11 motor cycles and 270 bicycles. This, if it cannot be termed mechanization in its proper sense, has nevertheless gone a long way towards improving the mobility of the force.

(v) Armed Police Guards.—Armed Police Guards have been mounted at certain important and protected places as a security measure.

(vi) Tear Smoke Squad.—The City Police Force has been provided, during the year, with a Tear Smoke Squad trained at Phillaur at a total cost of B.G. Rs. 14,500 including equipment, munition, etc. The squad, at present, consists of 1 Sub-Inspector, 2 Head Constables and 12 Constables. Its suitability has already been tested against unruly mobs both in Hyderabad and Secunderabad in connection with the Satyagraha Movement.

Steps are being taken to form another Tear Smoke Squad.

(vii) Co-ordination of Nazm-e-Jamiat Arabs and City Police.—A scheme has been drawn up in consultation with the Commander, Regular Forces, for maintaining co-ordination between the Arab Forces stationed in the city and the Police Force, (viii) Effect of the present War-time conditions on crime and offences relating to coins, etc.

(a) The brown-out conditions now prevailing in the city have not led to any increase in crime. If there was any tendency towards an increase, it has been counterbalanced by the proper manning of beats, night patrols and the adoption of other preventive measures.

(b) Police have taken action in about a dozen cases of price control, but now the Price Controller has been provided by Government with a separate establishment for dealing with this category of offences.

PART V.
